FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM J. BRYAN,
 OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ARTHUR SEWALL
 OF MAINE.

UNION OF THE FREE COINAGE FORCES.

At the general election in 1894 there were four State tickets in the field in Nevada. These were the Silver party, the Republican, the People's party and the Democratic. The Silver party elected every candidate, Newlands receiving a plurality of 1,817 for Congress and Jones a plurality of 1,302 for Governor. For Justice of the Supreme Court and Lieutenant Governor, Bonfield had a clear majority of 1,320 for Justice, and Sadler a majority of 1,379 for Lieutenant Governor, proving that the silver men had a majority over all the other parties in the State.

The Populists claimed to be as loyal to silver as the Silver party, as did also many of the Democrats, though the platform of the latter endorsed Cleveland's administration. Now the Silver men, the Populists and the Democrats have nominated W. J. Bryan for President on an unequivocal free coinage platform and one which also declares against the railroad funding bill. The Democratic and National Silver party conventions nominated Arthur Sewall of Maine for Vice President and the Populists nominated Thomas E. Watson of Georgia for the same office. This is the only material difference between them. As three-fourths or more of the Populists in this State left the old parties four years ago and assisted in organizing the Silver party with which they now differ in no essential particular, except in name, and in this county the silver men supported the Populist local ticket, there should be no great difficulty in uniting their forces as well as all who are for Bryan, against the common enemy which is intent on maintaining the gold standard and making the United States a financial dependency of the gold gamblers of Europe.

Why not effect a fusion of the Silver party, Populists, silver Democrats and silver Republicans on an equitable basis? Let the Silver party have a Presidential Elector, the Populists one, and the Democrats one, all of whom would vote for Bryan, two for Sewall and one for Watson. The State offices could also be apportioned between the three parties and in this way complete fusion could be effected as all three of the parties could nominate the same ticket and if so desired maintain separate party organizations. Prominent Populists, Silver men and Democrats say they would be satisfied with such an arrangement, though there may be others who would not.

Of course the gold men will do all in their power to prevent fusion of the silver forces. They are now making overtures to the Populists and Democrats, but without success. The Populists, like other people, are not owned by bosses and cannot be coerced nor driven into the gold ranks. They recognize that it would be ruinous not only to the interests of the State, but the nation to have the gold standard fastened permanently upon the country, and they will not be a party to such an arrangement. If this arrangement cannot be accomplished, then let the silver men and Democrats unite and it is morally certain that a large number of the Populists will join them. This is no time for hair-splitting or airing personal grievances. Great interests are involved and a large majority of the people are for Bryan for President and will see that he gets the electoral vote of Nevada whatever other arrangements the bosses make or attempt to make.

AGAINST COUNTY CONVENTIONS.

The people in the eastern part of Nevada, according to the Eureka Sentinel, Pioche Record and other papers, are opposed to county conventions for the nomination of local officers. Under the provisions of the election laws of this State any person who desires to be a candidate for office may have his name placed on the official ballot by filing with the County Clerk a certificate of nomination signed by at least ten per cent of the vote cast at the preceding election in the political division for which the nomination is to be made. This enables any citizen, who aspires to office and thinks he can be elected, to get his name before the people regardless of what conventions may do.

As many have learned by experience the most popular and best qualified candidates for the offices to which they aspire are frequently defeated by combinations in county conventions. The Australian ballot law makes the candidate entirely independent of the convention as it gives him opportunity to get his name on the official ballot. The plan has given general satisfaction in the localities in which it has been tried and any person who can hope to be elected should have no trouble in getting the required number of voters to certify his name to the County Clerk. Very many favor the adoption of this method in Washoe county and dispensing with conventions which are too frequently controlled by combinations. If a person aspires to the office of Sheriff, Clerk, Recorder or any other he has only to get ten per cent of the voters to certify his nomination to the County Clerk and his name goes on the official ballot for the office.

ADVISING THE MONEY SHARKS.

The New York World, like all gold trust papers, whether Democratic or Republican, is opposed to the election of William J. Bryan to the Presidency. It fears, however, that the acts of the gold gamblers will elect him and embraces the opportunity afforded by the organization of a Wall Street Bankers and Brokers' McKinley Club to say so. It tells these money sharks that if they hope for the success of the gold standard they must secretly work for McKinley because the masses of the people will oppose anything they want on the general principle that what they desire is not for the benefit of the country. Here is one of the sentences which the World uses in an article on these gold jugglers:

"It is you, gentlemen of the gambling exchanges, manipulators of money corners, organizers of swindling trusts, wreckers of railroads, shears of lambs, tax dodgers and absorbers of money that you never earned, who have done more than all the ignorant blundering at Washington and all the demagogues at the South and West to raise the specter of anarchy and Populism at which you now stand aghast."

THE OHIO STRIKE.

Five Companies of Militia at the Brown Works.

CLEVELAND, August 3.—The labor situation in this city is again critical. A hundred and fifty non-union men went to work at the Brown Hoisting Works this morning guarded by four companies of militia and a large force of police. A big crowd of union men were present, but no outbreak occurred. The police and the soldiers kept the strikers moving. A sympathetic strike, threatened ever since the strike at the Brown Company's works began eleven weeks ago, was inaugurated this morning. Eighty-seven men employed by the Van Wagner & Williams Company, hardware manufacturers, laid down their tools and walked out. They say that their only grievance was sympathy with the Brown Company's men. Committees were sent to other factories to notify the men that they were called out. The leader of the Van Wagner strikers said that they would demand of Mayor McKelzen that the non-unionists be dismissed. If this is refused the strikers will arm themselves and compel the non-unionists to give up their weapons by force if necessary.

Shortly before noon Director of Police Abbott ordered another company of militia to the Brown works, making five companies in all. The Director said he had received private information which satisfied him that the condition of affairs was more serious than appeared on the surface. A crowd of union men gathered at the corner of Hamilton and Bolden streets this morning and when ordered to disperse, refused to do so. A squad of police charged on the crowd and took into custody several, charged with violating the sidewalk ordinance.

BORN.

HOLMES—At Wadsworth, Nev., August 2, 1896, to the wife of Mr. Holmes, a son.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

MODIFIED THE TEST.

All Voters Who Believe in Free Coinage Invited.

The Executive Committee of the State Central Committee of the Silver party has modified the test that will be required of voters at the primary election, so that it reads as follows: "I am in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by the United States independent of any other nation, and will support the nominees of the Silver party."

This opens the door to all who believe in the free coinage of silver by the United States, whether foreign nations give their consent or not, and if fusion is effected between all factions which claim to be for free coinage then, of course, all voters, whether silver Republicans, silver Democrats, Populists or Silver party will support the same electoral and State ticket. There should be but one ticket for free coinage men of all parties and there will not be if Mr. Hanna does open a keg, as the gentleman will hardly send a barrel to Nevada.

SENATOR STEWART AND THE POPULIST CONVENTION.

He Spoke on Invitation of J. B. McCullough.

The JOURNAL stated that Senator Stewart was in the Populist Convention by courtesy of Mr. J. B. McCullough, one of the delegates from Nevada. As Senator Stewart has been classed as a Populist in the political almanacs and in Congress for two or three years it was creditable to Nevada that one of the delegates from this State should extend him that courtesy. However, Mr. McCullough informs a JOURNAL reporter that Senator Stewart was in the Populist Convention by virtue of a delegate's badge and invitation of him (Mr. McCullough) and he addressed the convention on time allowed him by the Colorado delegation, but exercised no other prerogative of a delegate.

Misleading.

An item in last evening's paper regarding Auditor Shearer's salary conveys the idea that Commissioners Hymers and Cobb had favored the allowance of $125, while Mr. Ait opposed it.

The facts are that the statute allows Mr. Shearer $125 salary per month, and that all the Board of Commissioners has to do is to pass the bill. The law permits the Commissioners to allow not to exceed $300 per year for extra services in the Auditor's office. It has been the custom to charge $25 for such service, but since January 1st of this year Messrs. Hymers and Cobb have refused from month to month to allow this amount, but Commissioner Ait has favored it, believing it to be a reasonable charge.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Woman and Finance.

The National American Woman Suffrage Association placed in operation last year a three years' course of study in political science. Clubs engaged in the study of the course have been founded in nearly every State and Territory. In an announcement of the work the committee says:

The second year's course of study deals with the two great problems of finance and tariff, concerning which the Presidential campaign of 1896 is to be waged and won. The course of study is distinctly non-partisan in its character. It espouses no cause, but presents the claims of all sides of the subjects under investigation in words of recognized leaders and authorities. It has been said these questions are purely commercial, and do not concern woman; that they bear no direct relation to the home and its interest. No statement can be farther from the truth. Nearly every article which enters the house for use in daily life is influenced in price by the tariff. The profits of the manufacturer and the wages of the day laborer are controlled largely by the tariff, and, in consequence, the privation or the comfort of the home depends upon it. One side of this great discussion contends for "high tariff for protection to home industries"; the other for "low tariff for revenue only." Each party claims for its side the low prices, the high wages and the comfortable homes. American men and women must decide which claim is true.

Again upon the standard of our monetary values depend wages, incomes, the safety of business enterprises and investments. Shall we maintain the present gold standard, or shall we go back to the double standard of former years through the free coinage of silver?

These are questions which must be answered in the coming Presidential election. Each side declares that if the other wins, disaster, panics and hard times will result. Hard times not only rob the home of its comfort, but they breed tramps, thieves, suicides, murders, and all kinds of evil. They drive men to penitentiaries, women to houses of prostitution and children to reform schools. Their influence extends to the remotest corner of our country, and affects the life of the most insignificant individual.

How necessary, then, is it for all classes to study carefully these problems this year. For business men, farmers, housewives, wage-earners of both sexes; for all intelligent men and women, a knowledge of these things is imperative. The times demand thorough, impartial and immediate study of these questions. The duty to investigate and to know devolves upon every man and woman. The National American Woman Suffrage Association through its department of study in political science offers an easy opportunity to supply this need. The plan of study is so simple and so well adjusted to the requirements of persons unaccustomed to systematic study, that the most timid may undertake it with perfect assurance of finding the work interesting and easy. On the other hand enough collateral reading of high order is recommended to satisfy the needs of the most scholarly and exacting.

We urge men and women, interested in an honest investigation of the subject, to form clubs for the purpose of study. A prospectus, giving all details, may be had free upon application to Carrie Chapman Catt, 106 World Building, New York.

Board of Commissioners.

The Commissioners met in regular monthly session yesterday. The usual bills were considered and allowed. On motion of Commissioner Cobb Auditor Shearer's salary for the month of July was placed at $125. Commissioners Cobb and Hymers voting in the affirmative and Ait voting no.

Jas. Sutcliffe of Pyramid Lake appeared and asked that the Pyramid School District be continued. The matter was taken under advisement.

Jerry Corrocco, representing the Franktown Road District, appeared and asked that the road be opened from Franktown direct to Virginia. It is claimed that the road is a public highway, having been purchased by the county for the sum of $4,000 several years ago, and that Theo. Winters has closed it up and is utilizing and cultivating the land without authority. The matter will be looked into.

Some other minor matters were considered, but no definite action taken.

The Swiss Army.

The Swiss army is complete in every detail, it is said, the medical, veterinary and commissariat departments being thoroughly organized, and the spite of the fact that the average cost of a soldier is only $7 a year. The first line forces number an effective total of 137,640 men; in the landwehr there are 80,600 more, and in the landsturm 270,000. Besides, owing to the encouragement given by the state to such institutions as the Societes de Tir, nearly every man in the country knows how to handle a rifle and is more or less of a soldier. Switzerland could at the shortest notice put into the field and maintain an army of 150,000 men at least, properly found and equipped. When the Swiss soldier crosses the threshold of his house, he may be said to be in full marching order, for he keeps his entire kit, rifle, knapsack and cloak—in his home, and every man takes an honest pride in having each article in good condition.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Big Prices Paid by Magazines.

Fabulous prices are sometimes paid for the sensational features in the magazines. A writer who claims to speak with full knowledge of the facts claims the Century company paid $50,000 for its "Life of Lincoln," $18,000 for the serial rights to Mrs. Humphry Ward's novel, "Sir George Tressady," from $250 on up to $750 for Kipling's verses, according to size. Charles Scribner's Sons paid J. M. Barrie $25,000 for the serial rights to "Sentimental Tommy." Robert Louis Stevenson received $7,000 for one of the serials he sold to the McClure syndicate. Other and equally remarkable prices are not lacking. Success in literature nowadays means money just as certainly as does success in other pursuits. It's all in the name and the fame.—Family Call.

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk," and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than recorded any other proprietary medicine. This is simply because it possesses greater merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. All advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla itself, are honest. ON THE BRIDGE Perfection in
In sweetest eyes,
Her cheeks with blush a rose,
I love her best,
But I can't bear
The bridge on sweetheart's nose
It indicates
Her noble traits,
And strength of purpose shows
But rivals scorn
And others mourn
The bridge on sweetheart's nose
If I should feign
A deep disdain
For her, do you suppose That tears of hate
Would devastate
The bridge on sweetheart's nose?
I think instead
You see I dread
To add to sweetheart's woes I'll venture this:
I'll fondly kiss
The bridge on sweetheart's nose
And warmly praise
Her gracious ways
And boast my scorn for those Who worship not
That lovely spot—
The bridge on sweetheart's nose.

THE LOST WAS FOUND.
The House Number Looked Strange Because the Transom Was Tipped.
If any one had told him he was drunk, he would not have resented it, but would have made an effort to maintain his equilibrium and dignity long enough to explain that he was only a little cozy. He realized that he lived at 206 Irvington street, and that his residence was on the right hand side as he wobbled along homeward. The uncertain light of early dawn, combined with the blur in his eyes, rendered it necessary for him to stop in front of every house and gravely brace himself against the railings until he could focus his eyesight on the number.
Finally he identified his house, but after arguing with himself for a couple of minutes he came to the conclusion that he was just woozy enough to make mistakes possible, so to be absolutely certain he balanced himself against the front fence and studied the number on the transom. Instead of 206 he saw 509.
He rubbed his eyes and looked again, but the number had not changed. It was still 509. Then he wondered how it happened that he had got on the wrong side of the street and three blocks too far out, made a zigzag across the street and started back, but before he had walked three blocks he came to the end of the street.
The weary pilgrim was bewildered.
He couldn't understand it, but getting his directions straight, his course up the street on the right side and kept on until he came to 509 again. He studied it from every possible point of view, even trying to stand on his head to read it, but it persistently remained 509.
Utterly bewildered, he sat down on the steps and waited till a policeman came along.
"What's the matter?" he explained. "I wanted to go to 206 Irvington street."
"This is the place, right here," declared the officer.
"Can't be. This is 509."
"No, it isn't. It's 206, but the transom is turned over."
The lost was found.—San Francisco Post.

When Ben Wade of Ohio was the presiding officer of the senate, he used occasionally to call some senator to take the chair and relieve himself by walking up and down in the lobby which runs back of the senate chamber. Once while thus walking he was overtaken by a certain capering senator from one of the southern states, who occupied the identical chair that Jefferson Davis had used while a member of the senate.
Walking along by the side of Wade, he rubbed his back wearily and said:
"Wade, these senate chairs are the most uncomfortable things I ever saw. My back is positively blistered from sitting in mine." Wade looked at him for a moment, and, as he turned away, muttered, "Davis left enough brains in the seat of that chair to blister the backs of two or three such men as you are."

When They Began to Write.
It is astonishing the number of successful writers who were well on in years before they even thought of adopting literature as a profession. Thomas Hardy was 31 before he began to turn his attention to story telling. George Elliot was 40 before she wrote a line of fiction, having no faith in her powers as a story teller. Henry Conrad was 35 before he thought of writing. Jules Verne was 35 before he wrote his first story. Rider Haggard started at 26; Mr. Barrie and Conan Doyle at 27; Grant Allen at 29, and Sir Walter Bos-sant and Mr. G. Manville Penn at 30.
George Meredith was nearly 33 when he began to write stories in his own peculiar style.—New York World.

The Waning Moneymoon.
He—Why, we've got a cricket in the house. Isn't it cheerful?
She—Yes. And so intelligent. Hear him talking about the furniture. How distinctly he says, "Cheap, cheap!" However, as she had been that day on a visit to her sister, whose husband was getting $18 a week, while her own dear new hubby got but $14, perhaps her discontent was excusable.—Indianapolis Journal.

BABY INCUBATORS.

A PHYSICIAN TELLS OF THE CON-STRUCTION AND OPERATION.
The Apparatus Is Very Simple and Inexpensive, but Attendance Is Costly.—In Addition to Saving a Life, Each Incubator Contributes Useful Knowledge.

In sharp contrast to the lavish recklessness with which noble, splendid lives are often sacrificed to some futile, ignoble cause, is the infinite vigilance and care, the ingenuity and skill that are sometimes expended upon preserving and fanning into flame a little spark that has hardly attained the dignity of being called a life.
Doubtless most are familiar with the metal receptacle 4 by 3, standing on four legs about waist high, with a small water pipe and heating apparatus on one side and a cold air pipe and additional apparatus on the other known as the infant incubator. But perhaps few realize the patient skilled watching and the consequent expense necessary to the bringing forward of the little inmate, until it shall be able to take its place in the world as a real "live and kicking" baby.

At the first appearance upon life's stage of this species of humanity "scarce half made up" it is swathed in a bundle of absorbent cotton and laid in its little nest, with nothing to distract its attention but a perfectly accurate thermometer, to which, however, scarcely wholly indifferent. The glass lid is then almost closed. Experience has taught the physicians that it is better to leave it open a little space. A trained nurse at once takes her place by the side of this unique object and keeps constant guard over temperature, conditions of air, etc. Absolute quiet and a subdued light are among the requirements. The temperature may range from 90 to 98 degrees. In cases of low vitality it is kept at 98, and with the most robust is never allowed to go below 90 degrees.
Then, every hour the little charge must be fed. This is sometimes accomplished by means of a dropper, but more often a little rubber tube is passed through the mouth and esophagus into the stomach, and into this tube is slowly poured a dram, about a teaspoonful, of prepared food. Thus in the 24 hours about three ounces of food are absorbed. This food is made after a formula arranged by a most expert chemist and changes from day to day according to the development of the baby.

Every 36 hours the little gown of absorbent cotton is exchanged for a perfectly fresh one of the same material.
The food and clothing of this embryo personage are not, therefore, great bills of expense, but its lodgings, its physician and nurses make up a pretty sum for its indulgent parents.
It will easily be seen that the only requirements for raising a baby in an incubator are a perfectly even, high temperature, pure air and a food the nearest approach possible to its natural food. But simple as this sounds it has taxed every resource of the best engineering and sanitary authorities, the finest bacteriologists and chemists in the country to arrive at the present state of advancement. An incubator as it is now perfected costs about $200. A few firms have them to rent, and as the demand for them is naturally small one may be rented at any time.

Dr. Rotch, who is responsible for many of the recent improvements of the incubator, has been very successful in its use. He insists upon having always two trained nurses, so that no moment may there be the risk of a change in conditions which might turn the scale the wrong way. This of itself means $50 a week, and the time of incubation is usually from two months to ten weeks. But the baby's stay in the incubator is the quiet of his father's who followed the good, old fashioned ways.

Hospitals cannot boast as great success as their experience with incubators, although several include one among their appliances. In the first place it is often a case where the tiny Mohammed must go to the mountain, and it is almost impossible to accomplish this without some little creature. Then in most cases the child has not only acclimated itself to struggle with, but has become a creature of habit, from ill-regulated, badly nourished and often interfered parents. Besides, no nurse in a hospital, no score of nurses, can so manage that one shall always have an eye on the thermometer and the 50 or more full blown babies will not upon demand refrain their voices from weeping out of consideration for the sensitiveness of their delicate little comrades.
The hospital people are sometimes asked why they make so great an effort to save the lives of these poor little creatures who, at the best, must enter the race of life fearfully handicapped.
"Our argument, of course, is that the tiny embryo has a right to its finest life in the world," doubtless chance; but their interest is largely scientific. Physicians from Maine to California, from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf, are constantly looking to these hospitals for the latest and best results of their researches and experiments, and by studying the treatment and watching the development of cases here, the incubating process included, they may be able to save many a life near home. Besides, who can foretell whether the tiny atom may not turn out a Lincoln or a Wagner as well as a commonplace Smith or Jones?—M. D. in Chicago Record.

Exhausted.
"Si Hubbard told me that he got a heap of work out of you when you was workin' for him," said the farmer.
"Waal, I allow he did," said the hired man.
"Yass. Fact is, I guess he jist about got it all."—Indianapolis Journal.

A greater number of men than of women become stout late in life. No satisfactory explanation of this fact is offered.

LAUGHTER.

Has I Evolved From the Brutal Yell Over a Tortured Enemy?
Just as the hoof of the horse is the remnant of an original fore foot, just as the pincal gland in man is now said to be the survival of a prehistoric eye on the top of the head, so, perhaps, this levity in regard to particular ailments (in others) may be the descendant of an aboriginal ferocity in man. It is a well known theory that what we call humor arose from the same source; that the first human laugh that ever woke the astonished echoes of gloomy primeval forests was not an expression of mirth, but exultation over the misery of a tortured enemy.

There is to this day something terrible in laughter. The laugh of madness or of cruelty is a sound more awful than that of the bitterest lamentations.
By means of this strange phonograph that we call literature we can listen even now to the laughter of the dead, to the hearty guffaws or cynical titterings of generation after generation of bygone men and women, and if we are curious in such matters we can probe into the nature of the changes that have passed over the fashion of men's humor.
For it has been said, not without the support of weighty cumulative evidence, that, as we penetrate further into the past, we find the sense of humor developing always more obviously and solely upon the enjoyment of the pain, misfortune, mortification or embarrassment of others. The sense of superiority was the sense of humor in our ancestors; or, in other words, we really lay at the root of this, as of most other attributes of our human species!

Putting ear to our phonograph, we catch the echoes of a strange and merry tumult; boisterous, cruel, often brutal, yet with here and there a tender cadence from some solitary voice; and presently this lonely note grows stronger and sweeter, as we travel slowly toward our time, until at length, through all the incertainties, we can hear the soft under-current of pity. Does the picture not seize the imagination—the long laughter of the ages which begins in cruelty and ends in love?—Westminster Review.

Farseeing Scotchwoman.
It would probably take many generations of undesired and undesirable adversity to train Americans into the far-seeing thriftiness of the Scotch. An illustration of this thrift is contained in the story of a Scotchwoman who had been promised a present of a new bonnet by a lady. Before she made the purchase, the lady called and asked the good woman:
"Would you rather have a felt or a straw bonnet, Mrs. Wilson?"
"Wool," said Mrs. Wilson. "I think I'll tak' a strae one. It'll maybe be a month or two to the coo when I'm done wi' it!"—Youth's Companion.

An Old Hand.
Bob—How much is it customary to give the minister when he marries you?
Ben—Oh, I generally give him $10.

A Royal Bridal Gift.
A good story is told of the late Baron Hirsch. A charming young girl, well known in London society, married an equally well known guardsman. Neither was overrich. The baron's wedding gift—at the instigation of the Prince of Wales—was a special train to Constantinople and back for the honeymoon and a three weeks' stay at the best hotel in Constantinople.—London Tit-Bit.

Candling eggs is the one infallible way to test them. This is done in a dark room with a candle, gas or electric light. When the egg is held close to the light, if fresh it will appear a pinkish yellow, and if otherwise it will be dotted with opaque spots or be entirely dark.

By doing good with his money a God upon it and makes it pass current for the merchandise of heaven.—Rutledge.

For your Protection.—Catarrh "Cure" or Tonics for Catarrh in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodine of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not blood disease, caused by sudden change to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat.
Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and, if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrh will follow; severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breath, and oftentimes an offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to allay inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.
